

Have you made plans for Mother's Day? Why not treat someone special — or yourself — to a beautiful afternoon of Baroque music with a Scandinavian twist? Join us for För Mamma, our next concert, at 2pm on Sunday 11th of May at St Augustine's Anglican Church (Racecourse Rd / Charlton St, Hamilton).

This unique concert explores the rich, elegant sounds of lesser-known Swedish Baroque composers such as Johan Agrell and Johan Helmich Roman, alongside well-loved favourites like Bach and Telemann — all brought to life with a Swedish flavour.

We're thrilled to welcome guest artist Sue Ferrers, who will perform on the nyckelharpa, a traditional Swedish folk instrument. Hear how this rare instrument brings a fresh voice to Baroque masterpieces.

Other highlights will include Vivaldi's Flute Concerto in D Major, "The Goldfinch" and Graupner's Concerto in D Major for Oboe d'amore, all performed with passion and historical authenticity on period instruments.

We'd love to share this special celebration of music - and mothers - with you!
